Proxi-Mate Pro Nurse Call Set

The tough, die cast aluminium interface unit is designed to plug into most existing nurse call systems commonly in use today. The units are ideal for the Nursing Home environment where simplicity can make the difference.

A simple, built in configuration tool allows the system to connect to almost any installed nurse call system.

Where complex systems are installed a range of adaptors is available from your supplier.

When used in this way, the Proxi-Mate unit supplements your existing nurse call pendant. The sensor activates the system just as if the resident had pressed the call bell themselves.

The Proxi-Mate Pro Nurse Call Set comes with a Wall Bracket, Standard 6.25mm Stereo Plug, 500mm cable and Power Pack.

Proxi-Mate Pro Wireless Set

The most recent addition to the range, the Proxi-Mate Pro is specifically designed to meet the needs of a busy Acute or Sub Acute Rehabilitation Unit.

All-round use for monitoring residents in aged care facilities, neurologically compromised patients in acute care and people affected by dementia and other conditions, in their own homes. Can operate wireless.

The system runs on its own rechargeable batteries so it's not tied to any location. It will 'talk' to up to 8 different pagers and the 16 character message can be set to read whatever is needed.

The system records the last 4000 events, including time and date of each event.*

The Wireless Unit communicates directly with a standard 'pager' (supplied) or a wall mounted enunciator.

The Proxi-Mate Pro Wireless Set comes with an Antenna, Wall Bracket, Pager and Power Pack.

Proxi-Mate Bed and Chair Sensor

There are a number of different sensors available for the Proxi-Mate system. The standard Bed Mat Sensor for example is commonly used when there is a need for a discreet and effective means of alerting staff when an individual has risen from their bed. Likewise, the Chair Mat Sensor is designed to fit snugly on a chair squab.

Both of these sensors use state of the art, non-contact electronic proximity sensing. Unlike pressure sensors, these are completely reliable regardless of the weight of the individual. In addition, these sensors are so robust they come with a full 24 month replacement warranty. Many customers are still using their original sensors five years on and still going strong.

IMAGE
SOON

Proxi-Mate Infrared Sensor

The Proxi-Mate Infrared Sensor monitors a narrow area up to 4 meters long. The alarm is activated whenever an individual moves in that area. This is particularly useful for monitoring wandering or dementia patients. The sensor can be used, for example, across a doorway.

Proxi-Mate Pager

The Proxi-Mate Pager communicates with the Proxi-Mate Wireless Pro Unit.

Proxi-Mate Wall Bracket

Proxi-Mate control units are fitted with strong neodymium mounting magnets and a steel mounting bracket. Any number of mounting brackets can be fixed to the wall and the unit can very easily be moved from one to the next. There are a number of benefits to using this system, not least of which is that the unit can be kept out of the way. In addition, should someone pull on the cables then the unit will come away from the wall, protecting both the unit and the wall itself.

Proxi-Mate Wire Hanging Basket

This fully powder coated basket can be used to mount the Proxi-Mate control unit on the head or foot board of a bed, or even on the towel rail on a bedside cabinet.

Proxi-Mate LED Display

In some cases, rather than having an individual carry a pager it may be best to use a wall or desk mounted enunciator. This device effectively works like a large pager which can be seen by everyone. In other cases it may be best to use both - easy to do with the Proxi-Mate Wireless Pro.

Proxi-Log USB Downloader

Both the Proxi-Mate Pro Wireless and Nurse Call systems record the date and time of each event as it occurs. The previous 100 events can be easily viewed directly on the devices' LCD screen and, while this is useful for a quick check of when things happened, it is difficult to form an overall picture when transcribing this data into a more readable format.

The Proxi-Log USB Downloader combines an adapter used to download the full data log (4000 events) to a standard USB Flash drive, with the Proxi-Mate Report generator. The Report system formats all the log data into a variety of pre-defined reports, allows the user to scroll through each entry and to print documentation that can be used to support falls prevention or quality assurance activities. The data can also be used as part of a baseline assessment to determine when care staff intervention would be most effective.

The data recorded in the Proxi-Mate system, combined with standard incident reporting can be used to keep accurate records of the ratio of risk to falls. Every Proxi-Mate alarm that is not associated with a fall is effectively a 'near miss' and reporting of such incidents underpins modern activity based funding models.
